

Prime Pioneer Square Location

Pioneer Square marks Seattle's original downtown. Rebuilt after the devastating "Great Fire" of 1889, the district is characterized by late 19th century brick and stone buildings, featuring some of the nation's best surviving collections of Romanesque Revival-style urban architecture. Today, Pioneer Square is a charming, revitalized neighborhood with abundant transportation options and a vibrant street scene.

- Two blocks from CenturyLink Stadium and Safeco Field, where nearly three million sports fans come every year
- Walkable to a multitude of restaurants and retail – Peter Miller Books, Taylor Shellfish, Damn the Weather, Copal, London Plane, Il Corvo and more
- Directly adjacent to the new Seattle Waterfront, opening in 2019
- Unparalleled transit access:
  - Two blocks to King Street Station & Union Station
  - Two blocks to Ferry Terminal (Colman Dock)
  - One block to First Hill Streetcar terminus and Center City Connector
  - Three minutes from I-5 and I-90 on/off ramps

The Future Seattle Waterfront

Steps from King Street Crossing, the Seattle Waterfront Program will transform Seattle’s central waterfront.

Currently, the waterfront is being completely transformed from Pioneer Square to Belltown. The program includes removal of the Alaskan Way Viaduct, the rebuilt Elliott Bay Seawall, 20 acres of new and improved public space, improved connections between center city neighborhoods and Elliott Bay, critical utility infrastructure, and new Alaskan Way and Elliott Way surface streets.

- Landscaped promenade
- Waterfront park
- Protected bike path
- Pike Place Market’s expanded “marketfront”
- Rebuilt Piers 62/63 floating dock

- Sounder Rail Station
- King Street Amtrak Station
- Seattle Streetcar
